Space is Limited, and we have seats but bring a Folding Chair if you have one.

You do not need to use your voice to tell people that they must realize that it is an energy change.

They do not have to realize anything children.

If they were going to realize that it is in energy change, they would have been studying that and they would have come to that conclusion.

Many, most people in the world are going to go through this not realizing what's happening, only that they are uncomfortable.

But even in that vast majority of people who are going to be unaware of the energy changes, there still will be those that will go through them, with a smile on their face, and growing their vegetables, and sharing them with their neighbors.
